UNDERWOOD TARIFF UNDER PRESSURE

Elimination of Anti-Dumping Clause of the Bill Is Recommended

OBJECTIONS OF FOREIGNERS

Senate Finance Sub-committee Considering Administrative Features of the Measure—Many Changes in Schedules Probable

Washington, June 10.—Elimination of the anti-dumping clause of the Underwood tariff bill, which would exact additional duties on imports sold in this country at less than the foreign market price, was recommended today by the Senate Finance sub-committee in charge of the administrative features of the measure.

This clause as it passed the House was not extended to articles on the free list and was objected to by the Senate leaders on the ground that it was discriminatory. It was first proposed that the provision be amended to include the free list, but this was finally abandoned, many Senators concluding that the clause is impracticable and that it would precipitate retaliatory action by foreign nations which would be disadvantageous to the extension of American trade in the markets of the world.

Provisions of Clause

The clause would provide that goods sold here at less than the foreign price should be dutiable at a rate equal to the difference between the consignment and home market price, goods dutiable at fifty per cent or more to be exempt.

The recommendation to eliminate the provision has not yet been passed on by the majority members of the Finance committee, but it will come up together with the recommendation to eliminate the provision granting a five per cent duty discount on goods imported in American-owned or controlled vessels, to which objection was made by foreign nations.

Foreigners' Object

Another of the provisions objected to by foreign countries is one which would require foreign manufacturers to submit their books in cases of valuation disputes is certain to be modified, if not stricken from the bill.

The majority members of the committee began today consideration of the sub-committee reports and ratified changes in the chemical and lumber schedules which materially enlarge the free list. All cedar lumber is placed in free list instead of being dutiable at ten per cent, and slight increases or decreases are proposed in duties on other lumber. In the chemical schedule, practically all coal tar dyes either have been materially reduced or placed in free list, and tanning extracts were reduced.

Dutiable and Free Articles

The committee will endeavor to have the bill ready for the Democratic caucus next week. The Underwood bill made oats dutiable at ten cents a bushel, with oatmeal and rolled oats on the free list. In equalizing them, the Senate Agricultural sub-committee decided today to recommend a duty of six cents on oats, except for food, which shall be nine cents, and a duty of thirty-three cents per hundred pounds on oatmeal and rolled oats.

In addition to the proposed countervailing duty on cattle, another provision being considered is that cattle should not come in free from any country which does not require as rigid inspection of live animals as does the United States.

COLD CAUSES NO CROP DAMAGE

Extreme Low Temperatures Recorded —Unseasonable Weather

Washington, June 10.—Officials of the Department of Agriculture believe that there will be no widespread damage to crops as a result of the unseasonable cold weather now prevailing over much of the country. Experts today expressed the opinion that there need be no fear of a fruit or vegetable famine and said that despite predictions of the Weather Bureau that the cool spell will continue for the next 36 hours probably no great harm would be done to corn and other crops. The early Spring planting and the favorable conditions of these crops are counted upon to offset any effect the weather may have.

The lowest temperature reported to the Weather Bureau was from the Cranberry district of New Jersey, where a minimum of 29.5 degrees was recorded last night.

Temperatures below the freezing point were reported to the Weather Bureau today from Central Pennsylvania and points in New Jersey. Frosts were general throughout the mountains of Virginia and Maryland.

CONGRESS TAKES A HAND.

Will Investigate Affairs of St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad.

Washington, June 10.—Affairs of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, now in receivers' hands, were the subject of attack in both Houses of Congress today. The Senate, through the passage of the Kenyon resolution, called on the Inter-State Commerce Commission to investigate the affairs of the road and furnish complete information as to its relations with the Chicago & Eastern Illinoins road and as to the extent and the present ownership of its bonds and other securities.

A demand for a special investigation by a committee of Congress as made in the House by Representative Hinebaugh, of Illinois, in a resolution asking for a thorough probe of the road's operations. The Hinebaugh resolution would direct the commission to recommend a law to govern the re-organization of railroads generally.

During the consideration of the Kenyon resolution Senator Newlands said members of the Inter-State Commerce Commision would welcome the opportunity to go into the affairs of the bankrupt road.

"I hope the Inter-State Commerce Commission will take up the greater question of the control of the issuing of securities and the supervision of holding companies and will recommend a law that will establish proper restraints," he said.

Senator Newlands declared there had been "great laxity" regarding the capitalization and issuance of stocks and bonds of railroads as evidenced by the fact that the St. Louis & San Francisco system had obligations of nearly $75,000 per mile.

INQUIRY OF COAL MINE STRIKE BEGUN

Committee of Investigation Begins Probe in West Virginia

WILL PLACE RESPONSIBILITY

Military Authorities of State Asked to Produce Records—The Existence of Peonage System Denied—Statements.

Charleston, W. Va., June 10.—The power and authority of the government of the United States came to West Virginia today to determine who is responsible for the conditions which have kept the State in virtual civil war for more than a year. Opening the investigation of the coal mine strike which has dealt death and destruction in the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek mining sections, the Senate mine strike investigating committee tonight called upon the military authorities for the records of the proceedings prior to and under the declaration of martial law in the strike territory.

Judge Advocate General George S. Wallace, Adjutant General Charles D. Elliott, Major James 1. Pratt, Capt. Charles E. Morgan and Capt. Samuel L. Walker were summoned to produce the State records regarding the declaration of martial law and the proceedings of the military committee which was placed in authority in the strike district. Senator Borah, of Idaho, desired their testimony and their records as the basis for the branch of the inquiry which he is conducting as to the charge that citizens had been "arrested", tried and convicted "in violation of the constitution and the law of the United States."

Opening the Case.

Opening his case under the section of the Senate resolution authorizing the investigation which direct an inquiry into this subject, Senator Borah, at a brief session of the committee this afternoon read into the record several excerpts from the constitution of West Virgina. The first was the provision declaring that the constitution of the State and of the United States shall at once be effect, the second provision declared that under no circumstances shall the right of habeas corpus be denied. The third was the usual provision that no citizens shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law. The fourth set that the military authority shall not supercede the civil powers, even under the plea of necessity as others provided for trial by jury in open court for all criminal offenses.

The activity of the State authorities in connection with the strike will be probed by the committee in view of these constitutional guarantees and the charge that the mine workers have not been accorded their full rights will be investigated with these provisions in mind.

Neither the attorneys for the mine operators nor the workers were prepared to begin the examination of the witnesses when the committee opened its hearing this afternoon and the first witness was not called until the committee met tonight. A formidable array of counsel was on hand, however.

Two lengthy preliminary statements were filed with the committee by attorneys for the operators. The first was filed for the operators generally and the second for the Paint Creek Collieries Company. Both were pleas of "not guilty", and both denied in detail and in toto the charges made in the resolution passed by Senate authorizing the inquiry. The operators in their brief made the counter charge that the United Mine Workers of America in its attempts "to organize" the coal miners in West Virginia field was responsible for the violence which has characterized the strike.

"We know of no system of peonage and believe none exists or has been practiced in the fields," said the brief.

On the question of the trials of citizens under martial law, the brief defended former Governor Glasscock for declaring martial law, and Governor Hatfield for continuing it.

"The situation confronting the Governor on September 2nd, 1912," said the brief, "was a terrible one; rarely since the days of 1861-65 has the executive of an American State had to face and act under similar circumstances."

The proceedings under martial law, the brief held, had been declared legal by the Supreme Court of Appeals of the State. The operators declared they expect to prove that a conspiracy exists, in which the United Mine Workers are the active parties for diminishing the competitive ability of West Virgina coal in the market and that the eroubles in the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek fields "are the direct results of such conspiracy."

The operators declare they also expect to prove that fire-arms and ammunition were brought into the State for use in acts of lawlessness and violence designed to keep the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek mines idle until the United Mine Workers of America should be recognized.

The statement presented by the Paint Creek Collieries Company made similar denials and similar charges.

The committee called on Governor Hatfield, who said he would aid the investigators in any way possible and expressed a desire that the investigation be full and complete.

Former Governor Glasscock will appear before the committee on Thursday.

Washington, June 10.—Validity of the Michigan law of 1909 changing the basis for taxation of telephone companies from assessed value to earnings, was today upheld by the Supreme Court.

CLOSE AT TRAINING SCHOOL

Annual Address by Hon. H. A. Page, of Aberdeen—Portraits of Gov. Jarvis and W. H. Ragsdale Presented.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Greenville, N. C., June 10.—The annual address to the graduating class at the East Carolina Teachers' Training School was delivered today by Hon. H. A. Page, of Aberdeen. His subject was "The Bondage of Precedent." It was a great speech containing a message of power delivered by a man that has the courage to case aside outgrown systems and respect the future.

The feature of the day of especial interest was the presentation by the two literary societies of the portraits of Governor T. J. Jarvis and Mr. W. H. Ragsdale, the two founders of the school. Miss Hattie Weeks, of the Poe Society, presenterd that of Governor Jarvis, and Miss Willie Greene Day, of the Lanier Society, that of Mr. Ragsdale. State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner, in accepting the portraits, paid tribute to both men, the constructive statesman and the constructive teacher.

President R. H. Wright announced that the class receiving diplomas had left a loan fund of $300 and stated the stipulations. This makes altogether a sum of $657 donated to the school for loan funds. The enrollment this year has been 252, representing 51 counties. Last year's enrollment was 235.

The number refused admission this year for the regular term was 112, for the Summer term, 176. Refused admission prior to this term, 641. The total number applying beyond the capacity to accommodate them when the school first opened four years ago is 929. There cannot be increased enrollment until the entire plant is enlarged.

The election of Miss Mabel Comfort, now in the Teachers' College, Columbia University, as a teacher of Mathematics and History, was announced.

The alumni held an enthusiastic business meeting on Monday afternoon. In the evening the alumnae dinner, the chief social event of the commencement, was given. About half of the young women who have graduated returned for commencement. Many visitors from different sections of the State attended.

DISSOLUTION SUIT

Effort to Secure Testimony from Official of Magnolia Petroleum Co.

Corsicana, Texas, June 10.—An effort to secure an admission from E. R. Brown, vice president and general manager of the Magnolia Petroleum Co., of Corsicana, that John D. Archbold and H. C. Folger, Jr., own practically 90 per cent of the stock of the Magnolia, as officials of the Standard Oil Co., and not as individuals, and that the Magnolia is the only company in Texas through which the Standard Oil Co., operates was made this afternoon just before adjournment of the State of Texas' 99 million dollar penalty and ouster suit.

The ownership of the stock in the Magnolia company by the Standard Oil officials has been admitted throughout, but Mr. Brown replied emphatically that Mr. Archbold and Mr. Folger hold the stock as an individual investment. He denied that the Magnolia Petroleum Co., is a Standard Oil property, and asserted that neither the Standard of New York, nor the Standard of New Jersey, dictates its business affairs.

It was shown that of the 24,500 shares of Magnolia stock Folger and Archbold own 10,798 shares each.

Practically the entire afternoon was taken up in an investigation of the selling methods of the Magnolia company and a large number of letters from A. C. Edie, of Dallas, manager of the sales department, to Mr. Brown, were read into the record. The State sought to show that Mr. Folger directed the price paid by the Magnolia company for crude oil and the price at which it sold its refined product.

Kirby was sentenced by Federal Judge William T. Newman to three years in the Federal prison and to pay a fine of $1,000.

Kirby collected funds by mail from Catholics, under the pretense that the money was to be used in building schools and churches, and also for a church publication which he claimed to represent. ## THE PUBLICITY LAW VALID SAYS COURT

Decision of Supreme Court Upholds the "Newspaper Publicity" Act

MANY PUBLICATIONS PROTEST

Publications Will be Denied "Privileges of the Mail" if They Refuse to Comply With the Provisions of Law

Washington, June 10.—The validity of the "Newspaper Publicity" law, enacted in 1912 as a provision of the postal appropriation act was upheld today by unanimous decision of the Supreme Court of the United States. Chief Justice White announced the court's conclusions.

This law requires every newspaper, magazine, or other publication to file semi-annually with the Postmaster General and the local postmaster, a sworn statement of the names of the editors, managers, owners, stockholders and bondholders, and in the case of daily newspapers of the average daily circulation. Publication of these statements is required, and for failure to comply with any of the provisions the publications shall be denied the "privileges of the mail." A second paragraph provides that paid for editorial or reading matter of any "such" publication shall be marked "advertisement" under penalty of a fine or imprisonment.

About 88 per cent of the newspapers already have complied with the law, many under protest. The Lewis Publishing Company, and the Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin, of New York, led the attack upon the statute, bringing suits for injunction in the Federal District Court of Southern New York. When the law was upheld there they appealed to the highest court. They claimed that the law sought to "regulate journalism," and to enforce a censorship of the press.

In reply Former Solicitor General Bullett, contended that, notwithstanding a division of the provision into two typographical paragraphs by the Senate, after the measure was passed by the House, the law was only one paragraph, imposing conditions upon the use of the low second-class mail rates accorded newspapers and magazines.

The Supreme Court today adopted Mr. Bullett's interpretation. The use in the act of the word "entered," a technical word employed only as to second-class mail matter, showed, Chief Justice White held, that Congress in passing the law had in mind only the second-class mail and not the right to use the mail as a whole. The use of the word "privileges of the mail," the chief justice took to be a positive reference to the second-class of mail because of the great advantages newspapers were granted under the second-class over other classes of mail in order to promote the "dissemination of current intelligence." He said Congress did not intend to exclude papers not complying with the provisions from the use of the mail, other than the second-class.

The second paragraph, it was explained was but a part of the first, as shown by the use of the word "such," an additional penalty being prescribed for administrative reasons only.

The legislative history of the provision, the chief justice declared, upheld the interpretation of the words given by the court. After interpreting the provision as imposing conditions upon the use of the second-class mail, the chief justice proceeded to discuss why Congress had the right to impose such conditions.

A study of postal laws from Colonial days to the present, he said, showed a persistent adhesion to a policy of discrimination in favor of newspapers in the mails. He quoted Mr. Bullitt as stating letter mail was subjected to a charge eighty times higher than newspapers and that letter mail produced an annual profit of seventy millions, while the newspaper class entailed a sevent million dollar annual loss on the government.

As a further discrimination, he said, individuals must pay a higher rate for mailing newspapers than the publishers or news agents.

In return for this discrimination, the chief justice declared, Congress had the right to fix the standard to be met by those who wished to enjoy the privileges. As far back as 1887, rules were promulgated for those who desired to enjoy the privilege of the cheap rates.

He suggested that the court could not bring its mind to the conclusion that the newspaper attorneys were assailing a classification of mails, with certain conditions attached to some classes, as an interference with the freedom of the press, when for a long series of years, legislation had specially favored the press to its pecuniary benefit by classification. The conclusion reached was that the conditions exacted were incidental to the privileges conferred upon the newspapers and were not arbitrary.

RECEPTION TO BRAZILIAN

South American Statesman Pays Visit to the United States—Distinguished Officials in Receiving Line.

Fortress Monroe, Va., June 10.—Almost like Hamlet with the Dane left out was the reception here today to Dr. Lauro Muller, Brazilian minister of Foreign Affairs, who arrived on the battleship Minas Geraes, to repay the friendly visit made to Brazil in 1906 by Senator, then Secretary of State Root, while on his trip around South America.

Although a distinguished party of officials from Washington, including among others Secretary Bryan, Senator Root, Ambassador Dagama, and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, arrived early on the government yachts Mayflower, Dolphin and Sylph to welcome the guest from the greatest nation in South America to the greatest nation in North America, it was learned that the Minas Geraes would not be in Hampton Roads until late in the afternoon. Secretary Bryan requested the programme of the day to be carried out with Ambassador DaGama substituted for Dr. Muller. Consequently the party came ashore and spent the day as had been intended, in inspecting the coast artillery school and the fortifications in witnessing a review and target practice, and in a luncheon at the Officers' Club by Col. Ira A. Haynes, commandant of the fort. Secretary Bryan also absented himself during a part of the day, missing the luncheon that he might go to Drivers, a small village some miles distant to address a graduating class at the high school there.

Shortly before 6 o'clock, the time which had been scheduled for the departure of the government yachts for Washington, the Minas Geraes anchored by the side of the Mayflower, having been escorted into the bay by the battleships Florida and Arkansas and the destroyers Beale, Perkins and Walke. The reason for the delay had been the rough weather off the Capes.

Toasts to the Presidents of Brazil and of the United States, to the American nation, the friendship of the two nations and to the army and navy, were drunk. To the toast to the President of Brazil was made by Col. Haynes, that to President Wilson by Ambassador DaGama. Brief speeches were made by the ambassador, by Senator Root, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of State Malone, and Senator Rodriguez, editor of the Journal Do Commcio, of Rio de Janeiro.

"The name of Senator Root," said Senor Rodriguez, "is a household word throughout South America. He came to South America a few years ago and showed the people there that the United States desires to deal with the countries of Latin-America, not as a big tyrannical brother, but as one who has the real interest of a smaller, weaker brother at heart."

Senator Root said that he had been treated most courteously during his visit to Brazil, and that he had found the Brazilians most friendly. He gave high praise to the army and navy, saying change of administration made no difference in their loyalty. All the speeches emphasized the growing friendship between the United States and Brazil and declared that the visit of Dr. Muller to this country could not help but bind close the ties between the two nations. After the Minas Geraes anchored Dudley Field Malone, third Assistant Secretary of State, Lieut. Commander R. C. Bulmer, U. S. N., and Capt. Levert Coleman, U. S. A., boarded the battleship and welcomed him to the country. The two last named will accompany him as aides.

Dr. Muller then went to the Mayflower, where he was received by Secretary Bryan and presented to the entire American receiving party. Secretary Bryan, in welcoming Dr. Muller, said:

"Your Excellency, I have journeyed here to this historic spot at the direction of the President to greet you as an illustrious statesman visiting from a friendly nation. Accept, I pray you, the freedom of the nation and be assured of our desire to gratify your every wish; and departing may you carry home only the pleasantest memories and to your people assurances of our good will."

Aboard the three yachts the party left shortly after for Washington, where tomorrow morning Dr. Muller will be presented to President Wilson and where in the evening a White House reception will be given in his honor. He will remain in Washington until Sunday night.

STOCK MARKET LOWER

Prices of All Reaching an Extremely Low Level—Condition Abroad

New York, June 10.—The stock market was again in the throes of liquidation today. Many representative securities declined three to five points and more in some instances. The impelling cause was the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the long-delayed Minnesota rate case, which was handed down after the close of yesterday's market.

The violent hearing here was preced by materially low prices in London where Union Pacific registered a decline of over three points. Next in point of weakness abroad were the Hill issues which were most directly affected by the decision of the Supreme Court.

Lowest prices here were reached at midday after which supporting orders were effective in stemming the downward movement. Buying of an investment character also was a factor, the demand for "odd lots" suggesting the re-appearance of the bargian hunter. Final prices were decidedly above the lowest of the day, save in Great Northern preferred, Northern Pacific, Union Pacific, Lehigh Valley and a few other shares which continued to reflect selling pressure.

With few exceptions today's quotations were the lowest of any reached since the panic of 1907 while some went lower than in that period. A noteworthy feature was the absence of any bid prices for many stocks after the close.

No small part of this market's ills is attributed to the demoralized state of the foreign markets and further trouble from those sources is predicted in private cables received here late today.

COURT'S DECISION IN CHARLTON CASE

Prisoner Must Return to Italy to Answer Murder Charge

HISTORY OF NOTABLE CASE

Porter Charlton Must Answer Charge of Killing His Wife at Lake Como Three Years Ago.

Washington, June 10—Porter Charlton must return to Italy to answer the charge of having murdered his wife in June, 1910, at Lake Como. The Supreme Court so decided today.

After discussing the insanity plea the justice took up the question whether, under the treaty of 1868, an American citizen could be extradited to Italy for a crime committed there, since Italy will not extradite its subjects for crimes here. The refusal to surrender citizens for extradition, the justice said, was of modern origin. Some of the American treaties provided, he added that citizens shall not be extradited while the others are silent.

"The conclusion is," said Justice Lurton, "that this government, making exception in some treaties that it would not extradite its citizens shows it was fully aware that there was no exception in favor of citizens in other treaties where the exception was not made as the treaty with Italy."

He pointed out that it was conceded that crimes committed in Italy were not justiciable in the United States, so if extradition were not granted, the criminals would go unpunished. Crimes committed in the United States, he added, were justiciable in Italy. According to international law, he held that the treaty by reason of Italy's course had not become void but merely voidable at the option of the American government. The Executive Department having waived its right to annul the treaty, the justice concluded, nothing remained for the court to do but to enforce its decision.

Charlton has been a prisoner in the Hudson county, New Jersey jail, nearly three years. The Supreme Court's decision today affirms the action of former Secretary Knox, who determined to turn Charlton over to Italy.

Charlton's father, who conducted a gallant fight for his son, was a former United States judge for Porto Rico and a classmate of former President Taft.

The Next Move.

The next move is for the Supreme Court to direct the New Jersey court to carry out its original order. A warrant of extradition for Charlton's delivery to representatives of the Italian government has been waiting while the legal fight has been going on. There is a possibility of a request for a re-hearing on newly discovered evidence on some other ground, but State Department officials consider that remote.

Refused to Comment.

Jersey City, N. J., June 10.—When Porter Charlton learned he was to be extradited he declined to make any comment. The jail authorities say he has been a model prisoner. His father, who led the long fight to prevent his extradition, has been his most frequent visitor.

Sheriff Wedin had received no word this afternoon as to when the young man would be claimed by the Italian authorities.

History of the Case

Washington, June 10.—The killing of Mrs. Porter Charlton stirred Europe and America as have few murders of recent years. With the discovery of her crumpled body stuffed into a trunk and sunk in Lake Como, Italy, where she had been with her husband to spend their honeymoon, both continents turned to search for the murderer.

The first great problem to solve was the whereabouts of the 21-year-old husband who, as a bank clerk in New York, had married the woman, eight years older than himself and the divorced wife of Neville H. Castle, a San Francisco lawyer. His father, Paul Charlton, law adviser of the Bureau of Insular Affairs and ofrmer President Taft's classmate, was firm in the conviction that his son, too, had been murdered. That question was solved when Porter Charlton, with his initials marked on his suit case, arrived on a steamre from Italy, a few days later at Hoboken, N. J. That night there appeared a confession bearing his name.

The Confession

"My wife and I lived happily together, but she had an uncontrollable temper, and so had I," read the confession. "On the night of the murder she had the worst outbreak of temper I ever saw. I told her to keep quiet or I would make her keep quiet. Then she had another outbreak. I took up a wooden mallet, with which I had been repairing a table, and hit her on the head and body two or three times. At midnight I put the body in a trunk, dragged it to a small pier near the house, and threw it overboard."

With the acceptance of the confession as a solution of the crime, there arose almost at once the diplomatic problem of Charlton's extradition. It was admitted by all hands that Charlton could not be tried in the United States for a crime committed in Italy. His friends, headed by his father, took the position that he could not be extradited to Italy, because Italy had always refused under the extradition treaty of 1868, to return Italian subjects to the United States to answer for crimes committed here.

Italy, however, made a request for the prisoner. Secretary Knox parried by asking if Italy thereby meant to waive its past interpretation of the treaty. Months of diplomatic exchanges followed.

Judge John A. Blair, of the Court of Oyer and Terminer in Hudson county,

PHILS WON UPHILL GAME

Defeated the Reds in Third Battle of Series—Nap Rucker Dropped One—Cubs Defeated Giants. St. Louis Won.

With the Cincinnati Reds holding a two-run lead at the beginning of the ninth inning yesterday, the Dooin Phillies came up and with three hits and three stolen bases brought across enough runs to win the game 3 to 2. Luderus knocked a home run in the fifth inning.

Nap Rucker was hit hard in yesterday's Pittsburg-Brooklyn game, and the Superbas lost, 5 to 4. Manager Fred Clark, for the third time since 1911 went to bat as a pincher in the ninth inning and brought across the winning run. Rucker was relieved by Wagner in the third inning.

The Chicago Cubs won from the New York Giants yesterday, but the game was forced into extra stanzes, only one, however, being necessary for the Cubs to put across the winning run. In New York's ninth the bases were full, but Artie Shafer fanned wildly. The fielding of Burns prevented the locals from scoring on three occasions.

St. Louis won from Boston yesterday in a game that was forced to 11 innings with a tie score, 7-7.

Phillies Won in Ninth.

Cincinnati, June 10.—With two runs necessary to win, Philadelphia came to bat in the ninth and with three hits mixed with three stolen bases brought enough tallies across the plate to defeat Cincinnati by the score of 3 to 2. Luderus knocked a home run in the fifth.

Nap Rucker Gone Bad.

Pittsburg, June 10.—After his players had failed to do anything with the delivery of Bill Wagner, the Brooklyn recruit pitcher from New Orleans, Manager Fred Clark, for the third time since 1911, went to bat as a pinch hitter. Unlike the two previous attempts when he fouled out, Clark shot a liner to right field for two bases, sending Kelly, running for Simon, to third. Byrne's single then bringing in Kelly with the winning run in the ninth inning. The locals hammered Rucker hard and he was relieved by Wagner in the third inning.

Cubs Won From Giants.

Chicago, June 10.—Chicago defeated New York today 3 to 2 in 10 innings. The game was won by bunching hits. In New York's ninth the bases were filled, but Shafer fanned and Saer made a beautiful catch of Fletcher's pop-up and doubled Burns at first. Burns' fielding prevented the locals from scoring on three occasions when he made one-hand jumping catches.

St. Louis Defeats Boston

St. Louis, June 10.—It took 32 players three hours to play 11 innings today, St. Louis finally defeating Boston 8 to 7. St. Louis used five pitchers and the visitors three. The winning run was scored on Wingo's single after two singles and a sacrifice fly had put men on second and third.

Konetchy drove in two runs and scored four. He was credited with a home run, a triple and two singles in his attempts.

St. Louis was unable to connect with Hess' delivery with men on bases until the seventh.

AMERICANS THE WINNERS

Defeat English Polo Challengers in International Match

Meadow Brook Club, L. I., June 10.—Outriding and outplaying the English polo challengers, the American cup-defending team today won the opening game of the sixth international match by a score of 5 1-2 goals to 3. The English players did not show the vaunted team play which had been credited to them before the game, nor did their ponies outclass the American mounts. In fact, the reverse was quite the case and in almost every run down the field the American players either held their own or outrode their competitors in the race for the ball.

The combination work of the American four with Larry Waterbury at No. 1; J. M. Waterbury, Jr., and L. E. Stoddard, at No. 2; Captain H. P. Whitney at No. 3, and Devereaux Milburn at back, was superb.

The challenging team, consisting of Captain L. St. George Cheape at No. 1; Captain A. Noel Edwards at No. 2; Captain R. G. Ritson at No. 3, and Captain Vivian Lockett at back, appeared unable to work together consistently, due in all probability to close "covering" of the Americans.

Hardly had the game begun before it was seen that the wagering odds of 8 to 5 on the English were not warranted, for the "Big Four" carried the play into the English end of the filed and kept the cavalry officers busy defending their goal. The drives of the Americans were made with excellent direction and length and they never appeared to have difficulty in hooking the ball out of scrimmage. The Englishmen were apparently stunned by the fierceness of the cup defenders' attack and failed to hold together in team work.

The three goals scored in the first period went to the United States, and it was not until the second period that the English four got going.

Ritson and Cheape cut loose with some remarkable long drives and the invaders began to team up in a fashion that proved threatening.

The work of Captain Lockett at back, was remarkable in view of the attack piled at him. Larry Waterbury was playing a rushing game nd his encounters with Edwrds and Cheape were frequent and thrilling. Finally he was penalized for riding across Cheape, who had just secured England's first goal with a fine shot from a hard angle. Larry Waterbury scored the American goal in this period.

The English four were rushed hard by the defenders early in the third period and Larry Waterburg scored for the Americans in 31 seconds. The ball wa scarried up and down the field without a score the remainder of the period.

The fourth saw the Americans missing several easy chances to score and Captain Cheape also failed from a clear field. The only gol of the period was scored by Larry Waterbury, which he partly nullified by a foul in crossing Captain Ritson.

The fifth period saw the English at their best. Captain Ritson scored with a lofting shot which the Americans were unable to reach and Captain Cheape followed with a 75-yard tsorng which had just enough momentum to carry it through the goal posts.

The succeeding session proved disastrous for the defenders for "Monte" Waterbury was hit on the hand by an opponent's mallet and his finger broken in two places. He will not be able to play in Saturday's game.

Open riding and individual play marked the seventh period in which no goal was scored.

The American team, however, lost half a point because of a sharp crossing by Milburn. In the final period the English kept the ball in the American territory for several minutes but Stoddard finally cleared it and in a run down field paved the way for Larry Waterbury to score the final goal of the game.

PENNANT IS RAISED

Roanoke Celebrates Winning of Baseball Trophy in 1912

Roanoke, Va., June 10.—The baseball championship pennant, for the season of 1912, won from Petersburg by the narrow margin of two points in the last game of the season of 1912, was raised today after preliminary celebration and a short address by Mayor Moomaw.

"Jap" Efird, who was the winning pitcher that won the game that decided the championship, was presented with a pair of gold cuff buttons after which Petersburg proceeded to pound "Jap" for four safeties sending him to the bench and scoring four runs in the first inning. Petersburg won 8 to 5.

Charleston, S. C., June 10.—The Munson Line steamship Olinda, which was yesterday reported on fire at sea, was at 9:10 o'clock tonight 95 miles southeast of Charleston and was making for this port. It was thought that she would arrive in the harbor some time tomorrow.

WITH THE MOVIES

When a theatre can play to large audiences on a day like yesterday, it is indisputable evidence that such a theatre has "them going." Yes, that is what the Bijou did. The Bijou always has a big show, it never advances its price from 5 cents and it always is the comfortable spot. Today another superb and bright bill will be offered. The first film is Kalem's "Parcel Post Johnnie." "A Fighting Chance" is the Vitagraph's offering today. Those who love travel must not miss Pathe's massive photoplay of "Ancient Greece," which is also a Bijou feature today. There is another film out of the ordinary and that will make the pulse beat quicker in "Winter Sports at Bodele."

At The Grand

The biggest kind of a show at the smallest kind of a price, is the proud brag of the handsome, up-to-date Grand Theatre, which is hygienically ventilated and where comfort is always on tap. The Summer price of 5 cents is making a hit wit hthe people and it is undoubtedly so that no where in the entire country can they witness such a big and costly show, under such attractive circumstances. The leader in the superb photoplay line today is Kalem's "The River Pirates." It is a most fascinating theme and the scenes are stirring throughout. "The Mountain Ranch" is a thrill a second, but everything is decidedly wholesome. A rouser is presented in the fun line in Edison's "Seven Years of Bad Luck." In this film Smith breaks a looking glass and bad luck commences to pursue him.

ATHLETICS WON; NAPS LOST

Mackmen Tallied Fifteenth Consecutive Win—Boston Defeated Naps —Senators Won on a Single Hit

The Philadelphia Athletics, in the third game of the series with St. Louis yesterday, scored their 15th consecutive victory, having gone three weeks lacking one day, without dropping a game. Brown, who started the game, held St. Louis to one hit for five innings, but loosened and was replaced by Plank in the sixth inning.

A lead of five runs secured by Boston in the first inning of yesterday's game with the Cleveland Naps was sufficient to put the game on cold storage for the Champs, the final count being seven to three. Three of Boston's runs were off Gregg, who was run out of the box in the first inning in favor of Steen. Nap Lajoie was back in the game and made several star plays.

The Washington Senators won the fastest game of the season from the Detroit Tigers yesterday, a total of three hits on both sides being divided two and one between Detroit and Washington, respectively. The Senators, aided by three Tiger misplays, won the game on a single hit, putting three runs across, while the Tigers with a couple of hits could not get a tally over.

The Chicago White Sox took the game of yesterday afternoon from the Yankees, after the Chancemen had rung up two consecutive victories off the Chicagos.

Athletics Ring Up 15th

Philadelphia, June 10.—Philadelphia won its 15th consecutive victory today, defeating St. Louis 10 to 4. Mitchell, who was hit hard, was ordered out of the game by Umpire Ferguson in the fifth inning for protesting a decision on a ball and was succeeded by Weilman. Brown held St. Louis to a single hit in the first five innings but let down in the sixth and retired in favor of Plank.

One Hit; Three Runs

Washington, June 10.—Washington, with one hit today, defeated Detroit 3 to 0 in the quickest game of the season on the local grounds. Both Johnson and House, who relieved Clauss in the box, were in great form. When Clauss passed Moellar and Milan in the third, House relieved him and Gandill greeted the newcomer with a triple, scoring both runners and scored himself a moment later on an error.

Naps Again Go Down

Boston, June 10.—A lead of five runs which Boston secured in the first inning today proved enough to defeat Cleveland 7 to 3. Boston scored three of its opening tallies off Gregg, who gave way to Steen before the first inning was over and Carrigan, the first man to face the latter, sent in two more runs with a three-bagger. Collins kept Cleveland's hits scattered. LaJoie got back in the game today and contributed several feature plays.

White Sox Again Winners

New York, June 10.—Chicago won the third game of their series with New York today 5 to 1. Scott was effective in every inning but the fifth when he forced in New York's only run. A catch by Collins saved him in the eighth. The White Sox pounded McConnell hard, Scott hitting a home run with Schalk on base in the fifth.

FEDERAL COURT AT RALEIGH

Judge Connor Charges Jury Relative to Enforcement of Federal Laws to Aid State in Whiskey Traffic

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 10.—In his charge to the grand jury today at the convening of Federal Court here, Judge Henry G. Connor stressed the importance of the enforcement of Federal laws designed to aid the State in stamping out illicit traffic in liquor.

He mentioned especially the Webb-Kenyon act which would greatly aid the State in dealing with the whiskey business. He also stated that his observation is that progress is being made in North Carolina in eliminating the drink evil and was of the opinion that the time would surely come when the people of North Carolina would be sober as a whole and abstain from the use of intoxicants.

Judge Connor further stressed Federal laws for the regulation of inter-State commerce, telling the jury that the people of the State are hearing more of inter-State commerce matters as the problems of traffic multiply.

There are 50 new cases on the docket and Judge Connor proposes to dispose of all that can be tried this week and adjourn court Saturday. Only criminal cases will be tried.

The Christian Endeavor Union of North Carolina convened here this evening, being entertained by the Christian and the Presbyterian churches. One of the principal addresses of the week will be that later in the session by William Shaw, of Boston, general secretary of the United Society Christian Endeavor. The sessions opened tonight in the First Presbyterian church, there being two addresses, one by Rev. R. M. Andrews, Greensboro, on "Jesus' Example of Service," and the other by Rev. W. E. Abernathy, Greensboro, on "The Call to Christian Service." There followed an informal reception in the Sunday school building of the Presbyterian church.

The railroad construction convict camps in this State for which the State's prison supplies the convicts, are to be inspected forthwith by the directors of the prison. The first to fall under the critical eye of the directorate is that of the South Atlantic Transcontinental Railroad. Chairman H. B. Varner and Directors N. E. Edgerton, T. Gilliam, R. M. Chatham and R. H. Buckingham, and Supt. J. S. Mann, left this afternoon via Newport, Tenn., for the Transcontinental camp just inside the North Carolina line, Newport, Tenn., being the nearest railroad point. While on this trip they will inspect the camps on the Statesville Air Line, Elkin & Alleghany, and Watauga railroad camps. The board held its regular June meeting at the prison today.

WILL GO TO FOREIGN FIELD

Rev. F. S. Love, Methodist Minister, Will Teach in Brazil

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., June 10.—Rev. F. Swindell Love, pastor of Queen Street Methodist church here, has announced to the congregation his intention of entering the foreign mission field. Mr. Love's decision was made when he became informed of the urgent need for workers in the foreign field.

He will accept the chair of English and Psychology in the Granberry College, at Juiz de Fora, Brazil. His new home is located about a hundred miles from Rio Janiero. Rev. Mr. Love is one of the most influential of the younger Methodist ministers in North Carolina. His charge here ranks high among the churches in the State, and the salary is large. His new position will be in no wise so lucrative, as living expenses only compensate the labors of the faculty at the American college in the South American republic. Pastor Love stated today that he would leave late in the Summer if arrangements are made by that time to fill his unexpired term. He is a native of Monroe, N. C.

Another Methodist minister who formerly lived here is now at Granberry College. He is Rev. W. B. Lee, who 20 years ago was a member of the faculty of the old Kinston College. Mr. Lee is in charge of the preparatory school at Juiz de Fora. Dr. Tarboux, a noted divine, is at the head of the institution, which has a large student body of native Brazilians.

The horse races will be open to the three-minute class and a free-for-all will be run. The cycle race will be open to one-cylinder machines and those with more than one. All the firemen of this section of the State have been invited to take part in the tournament.

MR. TINGA ON CASTLE HAYNES ROAD

To the Editor of The Star:

Being interested in good roads in this county, I want to say a few words relative to the proposed road to the Northeast river, Castle Haynes. Very nearly all the people in this colony would like to have the road along the Sycamore road. They claim that building the road along the school house gives the people at the depot too much of a good thing, having two roads so close together, and the piece I saw in the paper some time ago of some gentleman living near the depot has been answered very properly by Mr. Willard, because progressive citizens should have been glad, instead of kicking.

The people on the west side of Sycamore road will be very glad when they have the road closer by and I feel sure they will show their appreciation by offering to contribute towards the cost of building the little bridge that it will be necessary to put over the Prince George creek. This bridge cannot cost much, as the creek is narrow at the end of Sycamore road and both sides are high.

On the south side of the creek are the rocks Mr. Gregersen will sell for ruling prices. These rocks will lie along the road as we would like to have it. He also will give the right-of-way over his land. This road will be in my opinion the best as it is the shortest route between town and the bridge. In time it also will be the cheapest as the Gregersen rocks will make the hauling of rocks from somewhere else unnecessary and will be a big saving in time. As things are now the Holland Nurseries and the Horticultural Co., for instance, who have to go to town every day some seasons of the year, have to lose about three miles every trip, as the only public road from their places to town is along the depot. Counting this loss of time it will amount to quite some money in the course of a year.

When I come to town the customers some times will ask me, "where is your nursery located?" and when I answer in Castle Haynes, they will say, "why that is all sand over there." When they would go along Sycamore road they would know better, as we have about the best land in the county and when the people from the north travel along a road and see fertile soil and good crops it will, in my opinion, be a credit to the whole county.

Some money saved now in building the road along the school house will not be saving money in the future. Besides there is a lot of filling in to do on the school house route and very little on the Sycamore road route.

Thanking you for giving me space in your valued paper, I am

Yours very truly,

E. I. TINGA.

Castle Haynes, N. C., June 9, 1913.

INSURGENTS DYNAMITE TRAIN

Estimated That Two Hundred Federal Soldiers Are Killed

Nogales, June 10.—By the dynamiting of a troop train above Guaymas yesterday 200 Federal soldiers are estimated killed and many more wounded. The track had been mined by insurgents.

Probably Job never had occasion to fall over the same old chair when he got up at night to turn on the electric light.

A man who can get as excited as a woman is generally a live citizen. Some men won't even go to the window when they hear a fire alarm.

When President Huerta is able to borrow that $10,000,000, he may be able to get some man to take his place so he can get away to "see America first."

President Wilson is making friends among the people because those who are not friends of the President have never been known as friends of the people.

The Senators who insist that they never saw a lobbyist around Washington probably belong to the class of men who don't know an opportunity when they see it.

Women are fighting for a minimum wage scale. That's about what the get, anyhow. Men put woman on a pedestal, but she has to stand on her tip toes to reach 30 cents.

A government employe by the name of Drinkwater recently got a promotion and $200 was added to his salary. Probably he lived up to his name and had to be compensated.

In the days of his youth, the old fashioned gentleman sang "We won't go home till morning". Behold, in his latter day he favors a curfew law that shall be enforced on and after sundown.

When a man becomes the victim of circumstances after the circumstances have been placed within his reach, there is evidence of a raw deal if not a conspiracy that will get the average man's goat.

An Atlanta man is suing his wife just to humor her. That indulgent husband seems to be willing to do anything to please his wife. Doubtless, it is his accommodating ways that make her tired.

Says the New Orleans States: "It is said that Gen. Felix Diaz has written an article on what he will do if elected President of Mexico." Whatever it is, he ought to do it before somebody gets a chance to do him.

A Missouri man published the following card: "I wish to thank my many friends who helped and assisted in the death of my uncle, Samuel Ardrey." Reading that literally, Uncle Samuel had no showing for his life.

A Paris dispatch which gave an account of the wedding of an American lady to Walter Mumm, the millionaire champagne manufacturer, says "the wedding was celebrated with a full choir." The choir must have had the key to the Mumm cellar.

So long as the drummers are on the road it is a sign that business is good. Naturally, business falls off occasionally but a drummer knows that so long as he keeps on the road he will get there when the time comes to give orders for goods.

The British want peace with the United States. They don't want it any worse than we do. They have the biggest navy and they are our biggest customers, so what's the use of being disagreeable about anything that a "jolly good fellow" and the captain of a British ship could settle in about five minutes in the capn's cabin?

In a good roads country farmers drive to town on rainy days when they have nothing else to do. In a bad roads country farmers have to go to town when the weather is good. They waste time from their farm work when time with them during good weather is the biggest sort of money. One reason a good roads country is prosperous is because improved highways involve economy in a dozen different ways.

After Col. Roosevelt had acted very generously towards that Michigan editor he declared: "I love the whole world." That sounds all right, but the world will continue to look at the circumstantial evidence showing that the Colonel doesn't love his former friend Taft. Throwing his hat into the ring to defeat Taft is strong circumstantial evidence that he didn't love him, and his subsequent failure up to now to send Taft a bouquet constitutes a corroborative circumstance.

The Toledo Blade inquires: "Why does a mule always look ashamed of himself?" The Richmond Times-Dispatch, the mule's greatest apologist, would dispute for 365 days anything like an allegation that the mule is ashamed of anything. The fact is, shame is not one of the virtues of the mule, so how could he possibly appear to be ashamed of himself? The mule hangs his head to make it appear that he is humble, but his apparent humility is a subterfuge to cover up his habitual malice. A mule will stand hitched a year and eat six meals a day to fool you into believing that he is perfectly satisfied with life, but on the last go round he will make a kick that will bring results. The mule's quiet exterior is because of his concentrated thought. Like a lobbyist, he knows when it is time to saw wood while cussing inwardly in a way that would make Uncle Joe look like a piker.

GROW MORE FRUIT

People have "raked creation over" in Wilmington to find some early peaches but at all the fruit stores there was nothing doing. In the meantime, for about three weeks a few private citizens have been displaying luscious peaches that were grown in their yards or on small farms in the vicinity of Wilmington. Last season we saw people pay from 5 to 10 cents a piece for extra fine peaches, and we have this season seen just as fine peaches grown right around Wilmington. We have known for years that this section is admirably adapted to early peaches of incomparable quality, but for some reason we seem to prefer the insipid peaches brought from a distance and sold at absurdly high prices.

Why is this? By putting out peach trees next November people hereabouts could be marketing the finest kind of peaches in three years, and in the meantime they could go right on growing truck or strawberries on the same land. If every farmer would plant 100 to 1,000 trees, this section could be shipping peaches by the carload in May and June three years from now. They would have a large home market while there is no end to the great Northern markets that are so close to this section. We have the refrigerator train service, so all we have to do is to furnish something to ship. While the demand is good and will continue to be good, now is the time to make up our minds to have all the fine peaches we want. To be without peaches in a fine peach country is a reflection on our enterprise. We are about on a par with the western North Carolina section a few years ago, but the mountain people are now getting ahead of us, according to this from the Charlotte Chronicle:

"North Carolina is making a pretty fair start in the matter of growing apples. The orchards of the western part of the State shipped by railroads to points within and without the State more than 500,000 bushels last year. This is a good start, but it is nothing but a start toward what the apple-growing industry will be within a few years. We venture the prediction that North Carolina will be exporting ten times that amount by the end of the present decade, and we regard this estimate as conservative when we consider the fact that the apple growers are only just beginning to organize and to use some method in packing and marketing their product and that hundreds and hundreds of acres of apple orchards are being planted annually now."

It has been known for a century that North Carolina is adapted to the growing of fine apples. Nobody ever undertook it on a commercial basis, but now the industry promises to be one of the greatest in that portion of North Carolina. The fact is, for years one of the greatest resources of that region has been absolutely neglected if not ignored. Now North Carolina apples are taking the first prizes at the expositions.

There are other resources which are just as much neglected as was apple growing in the mountains. Peach growing not to mention the fruit industry generally, is one of them. We ought to grow peaches, apples, apricots, figs, plums and all sorts of small fruits, and do it on a commercial scale.

Raising fruit on a commercial scale is raising enough of it to enable the transportation companies to make rates and furnish regular refrigerator train service. Without such service no section could do anything but a local business. Few sections have such a service, and none are so close to new York and other great Northern markets as Wilmington.

Strawberry growing and trucking are commercialized industries in the Wilmington district. Let us add peach growing to it, and also grow every kind of fruit to which this section is adapted. The fruits we can grow here are legion. We could have shipped Japanese plums from Wilmington in April. Hundreds of trees all over the city were loaded with fruit. Some people thought they were fancy garden bushes and let the fruit go to waste. They sell at high prices in the markets and make the finest kinds of jellies and preserves.

Let's wake up and do with the peach industry what western North Carolina is going to do with her apple industry. We take up this subject now, for this is the time to begin to place orders. With the nurseries it is "first come first served."

Don't let us neglect any opportunity that is afforded by the unmatched adaptibilities of our country.

THE PENALTY OF GROWTH.

Atlanta is experiencing the penalty of becoming a city of more than 200,000 population. The time is coming when that will be one of the greatest of the inland cities of the United States. She is heading that way. The enterprise in there, and nothing short of losing her public spirit will ever make Atlanta a finished town. Years ago we had to study Atlanta to find out the cause of her growth. Within that vicinity there was the possibility of a great distributing point for the service of an immense territory, embracing several Southern States.

The little town of Decatur was a few miles away and geographically and territorially had every advantage that Atlanta had. However, Atlanta grew and extended out to Decatur and absorbed that town. Atlanta grew to and absorbed West End, and other suburban communities shared the same fate. The striking part of it is that Atlanta was the octopus instead of Decatur. Both towns had the same natural advantage for becoming a great inland distributing point. However, Decatur lacked one thing. She lacked the kind of men that determined to make Atlanta. She lacked the public spirited people that happened to see Atlanta first. She lacked Atlanta's way of inspiring all comers with the public spirit and enterprise that has made Atlanta.

The potential factor at Atlanta was her location for distribution. The adaptability was there. The opportunity was there. Her people seized the opportunity and played it up lively. It required railroads to make Atlanta a distributing point. Atlanta got the roads. Atlanta began to grow, and now all roads want to go to Atlanta. For the same reason that Atlanta was adapted to distribution and got the railroad facilities necessary for it, that city was adapted to manufacturing. Her people established industries and got others to do so. She is still after them, and now electric power by transmission has added to her distributing advantages, so both have doubled her adaptability for manufacturing.

However, the Atlanta Journal is bewailing the fact that Atlanta has outgrown her ability to provide all the modern conveniences of civilization and all the improvements required by a rapidly expanding city. The Journal complains that Atlanta's school facilities are inadequate. So is her sewerage system, so is her street paving and improvement plans. Atlanta wants a more efficient health department, up-to-date hospitals, a better police and fire department, etc. The Georgia city has outgrown what she has and is paying the penalty of getting into the big city class. The one particular in which Atlanta falls down is in failing to get the money to make improvements as fast as the city grows. She can't have the candle without paying for it, but she has got to have it for being a progressive, growing city.

No doubt the trouble about getting the money is the outgrowth of a political system that was not representative of Atlanta. Her city politicians knew more about politics than they did about city building and financing. About like the municipal powers nearly everywhere, they knew nothing about an equitable system of taxation, and they lacked the great capacity that a big town demands in its management. The only way to do in a case like that is to put a town's management in the hands of its biggest men—not in the hands of men who are too small for their town. At the same time, Atlanta is no worse off in that particular, compared with most towns whose politics is the smallest thing about them.

In the meantime, Atlanta grows and will keep on growing because she is a distributing point. Distributing points grow up in zones. Charlotte is bound to be a great distributing point for the zone of which she is the commercial and manufacturing capital. Wilmington is bound to be a greater distributing point because of her water and rail advantages for reaching a zone that takes in even Atlanta and Birmingham, Chattanooga, Memphis, Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati, etc. Wilmington is a port with great possibilites and it is growing. We are getting the public spirit that will make it grow and if we haven't got it we've got to get it.

Some of these days, if we don't look out, we are going to pay the penalty of growing. While Wilmington grows, there are two things we will have to look out for—public spirit, and a city government that will keep up with the progress of the city. Our Southern cities are outgrowing the old-fashioned "city fathers" who never studied municipal problems and had no experience in city building or city management. Wilmington is getting right in the class that has to profit from Atlanta's experience.

Are a city's business men progressive? Are a city's manufacturers and jobbers progressive? Are a county's farmers progressive? If so, we will show you a growing city and a thrifty country. Production and development in the city makes farmers prosperous because it gives them a good market. Production and advancement in an agricultural community adds to the prosperity of a city because it has a back country full of substantial patrons. All the resources of a city and its back country ought to be developed at the same time, as it requires intelligent co-operation to accomplish that altogether desirable end.

Most of the bond talk heard is in regard to the sale of bonds, but Cumberland county this week comes to the front with a different line of talk. The Observer announces that the county treasurer, Mr. D. Gaster, has taken up $20,000 of bonds voted in 1893, which matured June 1st.

The "rule of reason" lets out some men and puts out others.

THE TRUCKING SITUATION

Berry Season Will End This Week, Most Likely—Movement Less Than Last Year, But Prices Held Up Well.

Reviewing the strawberry and vegetable movement throughout Eastern North Carolina to date, covering Irish potatoes, beans, peas, cabbage, cucumbers and other things, the Carolina Fruit and Truckers' Journal in its issue today will say:

"The fact that only about 500 crates of strawberries moved out of this territory during the past week show that the season will see its finish this week. Last week's movement covered Mt. Olive, with 135 crates; Rose Hill, 72 crates; Teacheys, 133 crates; Wallace, three crates; Rocky Point, 15 crates; Chadbourn, 154 crates; Tabor, 21 crates; Loris, 63 crates. The carload movement for the season to date totals 959 cars by the Fruit Growers' Express under refrigeration, while the express movement foots up a total of 62,295 crates. Combined, the total berry movement to date by the Fruit Growers' Express under refrigeration and by the Southern Express, aggregate a grand total of 1,235 cars over the various divisions of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

"To these figures should be added 67 cars shipped out over the Carolina Central division of the Seaboard Air Line, which would round up the total movement for all this territory in 1913 at 1,302 cars. Taken all in all the prices have ruled satisfactory, the average for the season being something like $2.50 to $3 per crate. This is still something like 100 cars behind last year's crop. Fully 150 cars more of choice fruit could have been shipped had prices been maintained ten days longer before the break came with the heavy influx of berries from Eastern Shore, Virginia, Maryland and Delaware. Under all the circumstances, however, including adverse weather conditions, frosts, ice, cold waves and other drawbacks, we think the season has panned out remarkably well.

"Strawberries will now give way to potatoes, cabbage, beans, beets and cucumbers, to be followed next by huckleberries, green corn, squash and other vegetables. Then will come peaches, cantaloupes, watermelons and other fruits and vegetables, dewberries now moving more or less freely. Our special reports from many points in North and South Carolina and Virginia show the movement to be heavy all round at this writing, with prices generally up to original expectations, but not altogether as good as we had hoped for.

"The potato movement out of this territory to date has already reached 437 cars, with the number increasing daily. Bean shipments have totaled up to this time 116 cars, with cabbage having already touched the 251 car mark; asparagus 125 cars, with mixed vegetables amounting to 179 cars. This is exclusive of the express movement, which in many cases is quite large or larger than the solid car movement. At best the potato crop is going to be short in volume throughout this State and likewise in parts of Virginia, a fact that should keep prices at the high level.

"From the best information we can gather the cantaloupe and watermelon crops are going to be short. This much will be true of the Maxton, Laurinburg, Lumber Bridge and Old Hundred sections in Robeson and Scotland counties. On the other hand we are advised that in the Blackville section of South Carolina and other points between Florence and Augusta the cantaloupe crop will be fully up to normal. In the same section there will be something like 300 to 500 cars of watermelons to move. This movement is scheduled to begin about the latter part of June."

BUILDING LARGE TANK.

Delgado Will Installing Tank of 50,000 Gallons Capacity.

The Delgado mill, located east of the city, will have at its disposal within a few days a large tank, holding 50,000 gallons of water, which is to be used in case of fire. This with the facilities already in use will make the mill among the best protected in the country. The company has in use on every floor of the mill the celebrated sprinkler system which when fire breaks out immediately floods the buildings with water.

The contract for the construction of the new tank was awarded to R. D. Cale Company, of Newnan, Ga., who about 15 days ago sent two experts here to supervise the work. The tank is being built just east of the mill.

It will be filled from the large reservoir, with a capacity of 110,000 gallons, which is located at the rear of the mills. The reservoir is filled by means of natural springs from which the water flows by gravitation. When the water is pumped into the new tank, which is 105 feet above the ground, this will give sufficient pressure for all purposes without the use of engines. The company also has in use a large stand pipe, which holds 10,000 gallons. This modern system of fire protection will enable the company to secure insurance at a minimum rate.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Hunch Holly, Colored, Gets Two Months on Roads—Other Cases.

Two months on the county roads was the sentence handed out yesterday by the Recorder in the case of Hunch Holly, colored, who submitted to a charge of retailing at Wrightsville. The case of Bennie Wood and Frank Graddy, two young negro boys, charged with engaging in an affray Monday afternoon, was nol prossed with leave on account of the youth of the offenders.

George Sarvis and J. B. Neely, white, charged with assault on R. H. Burriss, also white, submitted, and judgment was suspended upon the payment of the costs. In Justice Harriss' court Burriss was taxed the costs for trespass. The case of Ben Green, colored, who is charged with violating the prohibition law, was continued until this morning, and he was held for his appearance in default of $100 bond.

BURIAL YESTERDAY

Funeral of Mary Eloise Williamson Held from Residence

The funeral services of Mary Eloise Williamson, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Williamson, who died Sunday morning, were held yesterday morning at 10:30 from the residence, No. 15 South Eighth street, and were conducted by Rev. Dr. William H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal church, assisted by Rev. C. T. Rogers, pastor of Trinity Methodist church. The interment was at Bellevue cemetery. A large number of friends of the bereaved parents attended the services, and the little casket was literally covered with the many beautiful floral tributes of love and sympathy.

TEN MILES OF SEWER LAID

Work on Extension of Sewerage System Progressing Satisfactorily. Outlet of the Main Line Changed.

Work on the extension of the sewerage system, begun about three months ago, is progressing very satisfactorily both in the northern and southern sections of the city and already about ten miles of pipe have been laid. Of this one mile and a half is in operation, being connected with the old system at Third and Queen streets. The work is going forward with about equal speed in the northern and southern parts of the city, about five miles of pipe having been laid in each.

The city had available three months ago about $100,000 with which to extend the sewerage system. The plans for the extension called for an expenditure of an amount around $175,000. The contracting firm agreed to take the contract on the basis at which the bid was submitted and continue the work as long as the money lasted and construct the remainder when the municipality got in position financially to complete it. It is estimated that about $33,000 has already been expended, leaving a balance of about $67,000 with which to continue the work. This amount will probably last six or eight weeks longer.

The addition in the northern part of the city will likely be ready for service in about two months, depending upon the date of completion of the main outlet line. It was first planned to have this outlet at the foot of Harnett street, but the city engineer has recently decided to make the outlet at the foot of Cowan street, and permission for the change has been granted by the State Board of Health. City Engineer Pillet stated that the change was made on account of the fact that to go to foot of Harnett it would be necessary to excavate under 10 railroad tracks for a depth of 10 to 12 feet, whereas, by going to foot of Cowan street only three railroad tracks would be encountered and the excavation will not have to be over six feet. To have had the outlet at Harnett street would have required about 800 feet of cast iron pipe, while to go to Cowan street it will not take over 100 feet.

The main line will have its beginning at the Seaboard cut, thence to Ninth street, on Ninth, from Smith to Bladen. The sewage from the eastern section will be pumped into the main line at Ninth and Bladen streets and then carried through this line to the river at the foot of Cowan street.

The following is the letter received by the city engineer from the Board of Health giving permission for the change in the outlet:

"Raleigh, N. C., June 5, 1913.

"Mr. F. F. Pillet, City Engineer, Wilmington, N. C.

"Dear Sir:—I am just in receipt of a communication from Col. J. L. Ludlow, of Winston-Salem, engineer member of this board, suggesting that this board approve the proposed change in location of the sewer outlet, which brings it some 1,150 feet nearer the present waterworks intake.

"This approval is granted with the distinct understanding that this arrangement is only a temporary expedient, and that it is contemplated, at an early date, or as soon as found advisable by the State Board of Health, to remove the sewer outfall farther down the river to some form of treating plant, or to remove the waterworks intake up Cape Fear river to some point near Castle Haynes.

"With this distinct understanding, the aproval of the State Board is hereby given to this proposed change.

"Yours very truly,
"WARREN H. BOOKER,
"Assistant Secretary."

It is expected that the address of Dr. Stiles will draw a large attendance at the meeting of the Chamber tomorrow.

BAD FIRE LAST EVENING

Store at Nos. 16-18 Water Street Gutted by Flames—Damage to the Building and Contents Estimated at $4,000

Fire of unknown origin which broke out at 7:40 last night gutted the building at Nos. 16-18 North Water street, between the customs house and the store of the B. F. Mitchell Co., practically destroying the entire stock of hay and grain of Chas. Schaefer & Son, New York; Mr. J. P. Temple, local manager, consisting of five cars of hay, two of corn and about two-thirds of a car of alfalfa, estimated value $3,000, with about $1,000 insurance; damaged to some extent some odds and ends of the stock of Maffitt & Wood, ship chandlers, who recently removed from the building to their handsome new home at northwest corner of Water and Princess streets.

The building, which belonged to the United States government and is on the site of the proposed new customs house, was damaged, it is estimated, about $500. Maffitt & Wood had about $1,000 or $1,200 worth of hardware on the second floor of the building, fully covered by insurance. Members of the firm could not get on the second floor last night to ascertain the probable extent of damage, though it is not believed that it will amount to much. It is estimated that the total damage will be around $3,500 or $4,000.

It is not likely that the building will be repaired and put in shape for occupancy again, as the government contemplates beginning on the new customs house before a great while. Mr. Temple had removed to the building only two weeks ago and had just got ten settled in his new place. The fire will not in any way interfere with his orders, however, as he has 15 or 20 carloads of hay and grain on the local railroad yards to be shipped out or stored away.

The blaze was discovered by Mr. Chas. J. Mitchell, who conducts the business of B. F. Mitchell Co., next door north. Mr. Mitchell had started to his store to get his umbrella, which he had neglected to take with him on leaving the office a short time before. Just as he got in front of his place he noticed smoke in great volumes pouring out of the building next door. Going a few steps farther he noticed a blaze leaping out the door opening on the alley about midway the store. He hurried to Water and Market streets and turned in an alarm from 41. About the same time the blaze was seen by several others, one person observing the red glow from his room in the Grand building. The fire had made such headway that the firemen found a tough proposition, but they did fine work in keeping the blaze down. After a battle of about an hour the flames were gotten under control, but it was about three hours before the three taps, indicating the fire was out, were sent in. On account of the character of the stock on the first floor firemen remained at the store all night to throw water in case any sparks that might have been left in the bales of hay should start up again.

The origin of the blaze is unknown. Mr. Temple was at the store until about 6:30 o'clock and there was absolutely nothing at that time to indicate any fire in the place. Mr. Temple said that his clerk was in Fayetteville all day and that there was very little passing in the rear of the store during the day. Mr. Temple was at supper when he received a telephone message notifying him of a fire on Water street near his place, but he did not know until he got down town that it was his place that was on fire. He arrived in time to save the books and papers in the office and most of the office furniture.

Occurring early in the evening and at one of the most prominent places on the wharf, the fire attracted a large crowd of people. In a few minutes Water street from Princess to Market was jammed with people to watch the progress of the fire.

The fire boat as well as hydrant pressure was brought into play in conquering the blaze.

A group of older residents of Wilmington, standing last night and watching the fire, recalled vividly that just 40 years ago to the day and within ten minutes of the time the alarm came in last night another fire gutted the same building. The coincidence is indeed remarkable.

RIGHT LEG BROKEN.

Young Heiskell Gouverneur Breaks Leg Cranking Automobile.

While cranking an automobile yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock in his father's garage, Heiskell Gouverneur, the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. H. Gouverneur, broke both bones in his right leg just below the knee. He was taken immediately to the James Walker Memorial Hospital where the bones were set. The injury while painful is not serious, and he is getting along nicely. The accident occurred as he was trying to start his father's machine when suddenly the crank kicked back striking him on the leg and fracturing both bones.

Improvements Completed.

The sound of the hammer made merry music yesterday at police headquarters as the carpenter was busily at work, putting the finishing touches on the recent improvements made at the station. Several days ago the policemen got busy and re-laid the floor with new timber, but balked when it came to doing such artistic work as building a partition with windows and doors, and so had to call in outside aid. Under the new arrangements the electric call system will have a separate room, while immediately to the right will be the office of the chief. This will secure greater privacy for those who have under their direction the enforcement of the city laws.

CAPE FEAR COUNTRY CLUB WILL BE OPEN ALL SUMMER.

Announcement has been made that the Cape Fear Country Club will remain open throughout the year instead of closing in June as has been the custom heretofore. One of the reasons for closing has been that the golf course and tennis courts have usually become so thickly overgrown with weeds and grass that games could not be played with any satisfaction. This will be remedied in the future, however, by the use of the lawn mower and motor roller so that the members of the club, who desire to play during the Summer, may do so. This is a forward step on the part of the management of the club and will meet with the hearty approval of the members.

Visitors, upon proper introduction of a member of the club, may secure cards which entitle them to the temporary use of the grounds of the club, and there will no doubt be many of the visitors to Wrightsville during the Summer who will take advantage of this opportunity to indulge in wholesome sports.

PYTHIANS RECEIVED.

Development Subject of Address at Opening Meeting of Grand Lodge.

Winston-Salem, N. C., June 10.—In an address on "Industrial Winston-Salem" to the opening meeting of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias tonight, Col. J. L. Ludlow, president of the Board of Trade, gave some interesting facts showing that while the enormous industry of Winston-Salem which has an annual value of output amounting to $38,000,000, or $1,000 per capita, is the growth of the last 30 years, yet as a distinctive industrial center the city dates far beyond this period, even to the early days of Salem, which was a century prior to the birth of Winston.

He presented facts to show that while the town of Salem, as is generally known, was established about the middle of the 18th century as a religious center by the Moravians, it at once began to develop a substantial center of industry, and that manufacturing very soon become dominant over trade and agricultural pursuits. From the start made in industry at the parent settlement of Bethabara, a few miles distant, in 1854, including a tannery, shoe factory and pottery which supplied a large territory, which was largely transferred to Salem in 1766, the industries soon became so extensive and varied that by the time of the Revolution it had become a prominent industrial center for that day and time, and was largely drawn upon for supplies for the Continental army, particularly for shoes, the original requisitions for which are preserved in the church archives.

Among the early industries which were active prior to and during the Revolution was the manufacture of buck-skin breeches and gloves, hair trunks from hog and dog hides, plain and ornamental tile stoves for heating purposes, tallow candles in large quantities, and, in anticipation of Prince Albert smoking tobacco, clay pipes were made as a distinct industry and thousands of them were sent to Northern cities. In 1787 the manufacture of the famous Nissen wagons was begun. In 1781 the Salem paper mill was built and continued in operation until about 1880. In 1815 a woolen mill was built. This is thought to have been the first woolen mill in the State and was equipped with cards, fulling mill, and finishing machinery, and furnished yarn in large quantities for domestic spinning and weaving, which was the custom of the early days. In 1837 the Salem cotton factory was built and equipped for both spinning and weaving. This was a steam-driven mill and the engine was probably the first steam engine brought to this section of the country. The products of this mill were yarns, sheetings, bed tickings and nankeens.

During the '40s the cotton and woolen industry of Salem was largely augmented by the new woolen and cotton mills of the well known firm of F. & H. Fries.

Col. Ludlow reminded his hearers that the great manufacturing industry of North Carolina with a value of factory products annually of $400,000,000, one-tenth of which is the product of Winston-Salem factories, is the development of the last half a century, prior to which time there was but very little manufacturing done in the State. He showed that the development of our towns and cities was the result of becoming manufacturing centers. He presented facts and logic to sustain the view that great urban centers in North Carolina are only possible if based upon industry rather than commerce of which there is not sufficient possibility of concentration to develop a great city in North Carolina. He presented convincing reasons to justify the conclusions that with the great tobacco industry and the wide diversity of manufacturing already established, including furniture, cotton mills, hosiery, underwear, woolen blankets, etc., and with the favorable pricatic conditions and the abundance of intelligent, trained labor available, the proximity to raw materials, and with the favorable transportation facilities to the markets of the world, the recent rapid growth of Winston-Salem is but the logic of conditions which destines this city to become the largest center of population in the Carolinas by the end of the present decade, as it has already become the industrial metropolis of these States.

GOT THE WRONG MAN.

Negro Arrested Sunday is Not Jim Peterson—Sheriff Smith Here.

Sheriff I. W. Smith, of Lillington, arrived last night for the purpose of identifying the negro arrested Sunday morning by Deputy Sheriff Kelly and Policeman Charles Jones, and supposed to be Jim Peterson, who is wanted in Harnett county for murder. Sheriff Smith visited the jail last night and as soon as he saw the negro who had been imprisoned declared that he was not the man wanted. Mr. Smith spent the night here, and will leave this morning for his home.

The negro, arrested Sunday, gives his name as Sam Nixon, and states that his home is at Burgaw where he works in a lumber plant. He came down Saturday expecting to go back Sunday, and was very much upset when he learned that he would not be allowed to return. At first sight, Sheriff Smith states, he looks somewhat like the negro wanted, but is a much heavier man. He was kept in jail last night, but will doubtless be given his freedom this morning.

Jim Peterson, the negro wanted in Harnett county, is a notorious character. The crime for which he is now wanted was committed last December when, it is said, he killed a negro near Dunn. Soon afterward he was arrested and placed in jail at Lillington, the county seat. He only remained a day or so in jail when he tunneled his way out through the wall, making his escape, and has been at large since that time. It is also said that he is wanted for crimes in other places.

Peterson is a dark skinned negro. 5 feet 10 inches in height and weighs 150 pounds. A reward of $25 is offered for his capture.

Senator Overman thinks the civil service all right, but he wants to see it suspended during a Democratic administration.—Knoxville Journal.

Wrightsville Beach

Mrs. Bettie H. Bridgers and family have moved down from the city, and are occupying their Summer home.

Mrs. J. F. Corner and Miss R. Barrett, of Atlanta, Ga., arrived yesterday at the Seashore Hotel to spend several days.

The regular mid-week dance will be given by the Tidewater Power Co., tonight at Lumina. There will doubtless be a large number of young people from the city who will attend.

The elevated promenade at Lumina has been completed and is now in use. It affords a splendid view of the dancers on the floor as well as serving to accommodate the crowds who attend the Sunday concerts.

This afternoon there will be a game of baseball between the staffs of the Oceanic and Seashore Hotels played on the beach in front of the Oceanic Hotel. These teams have been practicing zealously for some time, and plenty of amusement is assured the onlookers.

The placing of a large 30-foot pole on the premises of Capt. C. D. Maffitt has occasioned quite a bit of inquiry among the visitors at the beach. It is learned that t is a part of a wireless apparatus which he is installing, and that he expects to have in working order within a few days. The Seminole, the revenue cutter, is equipped with wireless and this station will enable the vessel when at sea to keep in communication with those on shore.

Following is the line-up for the game of baseball which will be played this afternoon between the Oceanic and Seashore hotel staffs: Oceanic Hotel—"Lonnie" Davis, c; "Buddy" Kneisel, p; "Dago" Wright, 1b; "Bill" Watson, 2b; "Lengthy" Strange, 3b; "Square" Meals, ss; "Chick" Supplee, lf; "Gouchy" Duffy, rf; "Biddie" Hall, cf. ### Electrical Club Meets

The Electrical Club met last night in Bonitz Hall, in regular session. Mr. D. H. Barnett gave an interesting address on "Rail Bonding." Mr. Raymond Hunt gave a special lesson on dynamos and motors which was very much appreciated. The president of the club, Mr. Hunt, presided over the meeting.

—Ephraim Brown, colored, was arrested late yesterday afternoon and locked up at police headquarters on a charge of being a public nuisance.

Mrs. Largen Tells of Her Experience and How She Finally Came Out All Right.

Elkwood, Ala.—Mrs. Mattie Largen, of this town, writes the following letter for publication: "My health was very bad for a long time, on account of womanly trouble. I suffered a great deal, at different times with headache and pains in the bottom of my stomach, and had blind spells.

All of this made me so weak I could hardly sit up. I tried treatment after treatment, but they did me no good.

Just as soon as I commenced taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, my health got better, and now I can do all my housework.

I will never be without Cardui in the house, and will recommend it to every lady that I can, for it has done me so much good and I know it will do the same for others, if they will give it a trial."

The reason Cardui has attained such wonderful success in the treatment of diseases peculiar to women, is that it acts specifically on the womanly organs. It contains purely vegetable ingredients, of real medicinal merit, and in a safe, gentle way, helps build the womanly constitution back to health and strength.

Cardui is being successfully used by thousands of women every day. You won't regret giving it a trial.

THE COTTON MARKET ACTIVE THE WHEAT MARKET BEARISH VIOLENT DECLINE IN STOCKS

All Position Make New High Ground for the Movement—Considerable Excitement in Trading—Close Steady

New York, May 10.—The cotton was active today and at times showed considerable excitement with all positions making new high ground for the movement. The close was steady and from 8 to 18 points net higher.

The opening was firm, at an advance of 6 to 12 points in response to higher late cables from Liverpool, larger English spot sales and reports that a favorable breaking of the Indian monsoon would mean another year of good business in Lancashire. Early weather reports were considered generally favorable and Southern crop advices continued of an optimistic average. There was an active demand for old crop positions, while the selling was limited and after some little irregularity prices worked sharply higher. The unsettled state of affairs in the stock market was considered by some an unfavorable indication as to general trade conditions in the future, but Wall Street houses were active buyers to cover shorts and during the early afternoon demand became more active, owing to reports of excessive rainfall and low night temperatures in the Eastern belt.

July contracts led the advance as there were very few sellers around the ring, and that positions sold up to 12.25, or 37 points above the closing figures of last night. New crop positions meanwhile sold 17 to 19 points net higher, but after the execution of stop orders which had been caught on this upturn, the market met heavy realizing. Closing prices were several points off from the best. Houses with French and other Continental connections were buyers of near months and early new crop deliveries here, while Liverpool traded both ways in July. New Orleans bought new crops early, but houses with Southern connections were free sellers on the advance.

Spot cotton, quiet, 10 points up; middling uplands, 12.35; do. gulf, 12.60; sales, none.

Troubled Day in Market Resulting From Railroad Rate Decision of the Supreme Court—Many Severe Losses

New York, June 10.—The stock market passed through a troubled day as a result of the rendition by the Supreme Court, after the close of yesterday, of its decision in the Minnesota rate case. The decision was construed as adverse to the railroads, and the market experienced a violent decline. In the afternoon a partial recovery was made.

The Hill stocks, which were immediately concerned in the outcome of the suit, were the heaviest losers. Northern Pacific and Great Northern, preferred, broke about seven points. Among the other prominent stocks there were drops of 2 to 5 points, and some of the inactive issues fell as much as 10 points. Severe losses of American stocks in London, before the opening here gave a forecast, and initial prices in many cases were 1 to 4 points under yesterday's close. Large blocks of stock were thrown on the market. Bear operators attacked the list and their efforts were reinforced by hurried liquidation of long stocks.

The market rallied after the shock of the opening break, prompt support being given, but quickly went off again.

Then came another rally, which was followed, during the noon hour, by the severest break of the day, when the bottom prices were touched all through the list. Steel fell to 50½, within ⅛ of the lowest price made at the time of filing of the dissolution suit. St. Paul broke below par, touching 98¾. Southern Pacific fell to 89½; Union Pacific to 138¾; Reading to 151¾; Great Northern, preferred, to 1.15¾, and Northern Pacific to 1.01¾. In many instances the lowest prices since the panic of 1907 were reached.

After the noon day break there was a gradual recovery. Short covering toward the close aided in the upturn. Some stocks entirely recovered their losses, and in other cases there were rallies of two points or more. It was the largest day's business of the year, with sales exceeding 850,000 shares.

In addition to the Minnesota rate decision, the amrket had other unfavorable influences to contend with. There was active selling here for foreign account. London sales here being estimated at 50,000 shares. The financial situation abroad was made still more gloomy by a failure at London, and reports of hostilities in the Balkans. Some apprehension was aroused by the Attorney General's reported opposition to both the plans outlined for dissolution of the Harriman system.

The monthly statement of United States Steel also was decidedly unfavorable. A falling off in unfilled tonnage had been expected, but the decline of 654,000 tons was altogether larger than was looked for. The report showed that during May the Steel Corporation received new business at the rate of about 24,000 tons a day below shipments.

Bonds were weak, with especial heaviness in Steel 5s. Total sales, par value, $2,775,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales were 857,000 shares.

COURT'S DECISION IN CHARLTON CASE

(Concluded from Page One.)

New York, sitting as a Federal extradition magistrate, held Charlton subject to extradition. The court declined to receive evidence of Charlton's insanity on the ground that under the law of New Jersey defenses could not be made at a preliminary hearing of the nature then before the court. Secretary Knox approved that holding, taking the position that inasmuch as Charlton could not be brought to answer for the crime in this country, the United States would adhere to its interpretation of the treaty by surrendering him to Italy.

Charlton's father then began the last fight to save his son from extradition. He applied to the Circuit Court of the United States for New Jersey for his release on habeas corpus proceedings, holding that the treaty did not justify the extradition and that evidence of sanity should have been received. The Circuit Court refused to grant his release, but Charlton appealed to the Supreme Court. It was this appeal that was acted upon today.

As evidence of Charlton's insanity, his counsel offered to prove that as a child he had fits of extreme rage, giving as one instance, his begging to be permitted to take vengeance on a horse that had run away with him. Another instance referred to was the occasion when Paul Charlton, his father, inquired as to his son's resources, when told of his marriage, the result being that the son refused to dine with him, and later, on his honeymoon trip, wrote to his father a letter "so full of foulness and abuse that the father destroyed it unread, except a glance through it to see its purport."

Evidence was offered to show that the family history of Porter Charlton supported the claim of insanity. Counsel offered to offer testimony on the medical history of the murdered wife to show she had once been confined in an institution in New York, suffering from eratic insanity. It was explained that her condition was important as bearing on Charlton's mental condition.

THE LOBBY INVESTIGATION.

Evidence of Men Who Conducted the Fight in Behalf of Free Sugar.

Washington, June 10.—For six hours today former Governor Carter and Sydney Ballou, two of the men who have conducted the fight of Hawaiian producers in Washington to retain a duty on sugar, outlined to the Senate lobby investigating committee their activities here and elsewhere.

Governor Carter testified that he was paid nothing and received only his expenses. Mr. Ballou said he was the regular agent of the sugar producers in Washington, with a salary of $12,000 a year, and $3,000 a year for expenses. Both agreed that about $100,000 had been spent by the sugar people in their campaign against free sugar, but denied there had been any tangible combination between the United States Cane & Beet and Hawaii cane producers with a common fund directed to influencing legislation. The session at times grew warm.

Senators Walsh and Reed put Governor Carter through a sharp cross examination under which the witness appeared fully able to take care of himself. He declared that an audience with President Wilson for the Hawaiian sugar men had been denied by Secretary Tumulty, and that a member of the Senate Finance subcommittee in charge of sugar had suggested that they be given a hearing "after the passage of the bill." Mr. Ballou said later that Senator Gore had made this statement.

Governor Carter said that three Senators, Swanson, Lewis and Williams, had told him, or Hawaiian friends that they were not in sympathy with free sugar, but since it was advocated by the Democratic party they must vote for it. He declared that he had got no satisfaction when he spoke of hearings to members of the cabinet, Congressmen and Senators.

"Secretary Lane told me," he said, "that it was a legislative matter and the administration had nothing to do with it. I called up here and they told me it was an executive matter and they had nothing to do with it."

"I'm a Bull Mooser," he said, in response to Senator Cummins question as to his politics.

Mr. Ballou's testimony was largely corroborative of that given by Governor Carter.

Senator Reed so worded his question at one time as to arouse the criticism of Senator Nelson.

"You can't dictate his answer for him," said Mr. Nelson, "this isn't a police court."

"No, but it ought to be a place where the gentlemen are present acting as gentlemen," retorted Senator Reed.

Chairman Overman rapped for order and the incident ended.

Senator Reed asked Ballou if the Hawaiian planters were not anxious for a return of the penal labor system. He read a statement to this effect from what he said was a "suppressed" report by Daniel J. Keefe, former commissioner of immigration.

"There are about as many gentlemen in Hawaii who favor a return to that system as there are gentlemen in the South who favor a return to slavery," answered the witness.

Senator Reed quoted at length from the Keefe report on conditions in Hawaii. The witness declared most of Mr. Keefe's statements were "false" and he offered in rebuttal a report written by Victor S. Clarke, an employe of the Department of Commerce and Labor, sent to Hawaii to get information for it. The committee brought out that charges had been filed against Keefe and that Clark had left the government service and taken employment with the territory of Hawaii.

The members laughed as the letter was read by Senator Overman. Senator Gronna asked that A. Y. Moore, publisher of the paper, be subpoenaed.

The Master Of Strange Powers

Reads the Innermost Secrets of Life Like the Pages of an Open Book.

The great phychologist, Mme. Elda Melean, who is visiting in Wilmington for the first time, is certainly doing all the good that the press and public claim for this noted life reader. This is proven by the large number of our better people who call daily.

Would you achieve success? Would you know and experience the pleasures that come from leading instead of being led? would you win merit in eyes of those with whom you come in contact and create a favorable impression wherever you go? In short, are you tired of your present aimless hit-or-miss existence and lack of ability to create favorable impressions? Surely you are. Then it is a duty that you owe to yourself to call on Elda Melean at once.

Many sad hearts have been gladdened, many weary lives made bright through the advice and magnetism of this Yogi philosopher, who simply amazes men and women in all walks of life who are in trouble or suspense concerning the every day affairs of life. One visit to this eminent clairvoyant may mean the turning point of your life.

Without asking a single question or you speaking one word Mme. Elda Melean will call your name in full, also full names of husband, wife, or sweetheart, tells you whom and when you will marry; never fails to reunite the separated; settles lovers' quarrels, family troubles and tells how to obtain absolute success in business, law suits, divorce, marriage, love affairs, investments, speculations, mining, real estate and all matters of interest.

Many are taking advantage of the special low price of the readings this week. Why not you?
